3 their child might be mentally challenged. The doctors encouraged
4 surgery, an option that Joe and Laura Landaker refused; and

5 WHEREAS, Although smaller in size than most boys his age, 6 Lieutenant Landaker proved the doctors wrong by excelling in 7 both academics and sports; and

8 WHEREAS, What Lieutenant Landaker lacked in stature, he 9 made up for in spirit, heart, and determination, presenting himself 10 throughout his life as a force to be reckoned with; and

11 WHEREAS, As a young man, Lieutenant Landaker enjoyed 12 skiing, snowboarding, and playing baseball and football; and

13 WHEREAS, While attending Big Bear High School, Lieutenant 14 Landaker played varsity baseball, served as the quarterback on the 15 varsity football team, was an all-CIF defensive back, and was 16 inducted into the player hall of fame; and

17 WHEREAS, The head football coach at Big Bear High School,
18 Dave Griffith, considered Lieutenant Landaker not only a standout
19 football player but also a standout person and a role model to kids.
20 Joe Bradley, a physics teacher and baseball coach at Big Bear High 21 School, also held Lieutenant Landaker in high regard, stating that 22 he had never coached a kid with more heart or courage; and

23 WHEREAS, In homage to Lieutenant Landaker's athletic legacy
24 at Big Bear High School, his jersey, number 15, was recently 25 retired and an award is to be made in his honor; and

26 WHEREAS, After graduating from high school, Lieutenant 27 Landaker studied physics at the University of La Verne; and

28 WHEREAS, Following the events of September 11, 2001,
